Miraca Gross, in her Own Write: A Lifetime in Gifted Education

Dr Miraca Gross is Professor of Gifted Education at the University of New South Wales in Sydney, Australia and Director of the Gifted Education Research, Resource and Information Centre (GERRIC). She is recognised internationally as a leading researcher in this field of education. In 2005 the American National Association for Gifted Children recognised her with its Distinguished Scholar Award – an honour never before or since conferred outside North America. In 2008 the Mensa International Education and Research Foundation honoured Miraca with its Lifetime Achievement Award and in the same year she was created a Member of the Order of Australia in the Queen’s Birthday Honours List.

Miraca Gross, in her Own Write brings together, for the first time, 20 highly readable articles and book chapters published internationally in books and journals over the last two decades. They centre on four key themes in Miraca’s research: the social and emotional development of intellectually gifted students; the highly gifted; issues of equity and social justice; and the employment of, and outcomes of, the various forms of academic acceleration. Each is preceded by an introduction written especially for this book, setting the article or chapter in context within the wider field of gifted education.

Proceeds after costs will be used to provide scholarships to assist gifted and talented Australian students who are disadvantaged economically or by distance to attend GERRIC’s school vacation enrichment programs.

“Miraca has been a vibrant voice for gifted education not only in Australia but internationally. Her work is academically strong and passionate. Miraca Gross, in her Own Write is a gift to all of us in the field.”
